- Breakfasts, Lunches, Picnics and Packed Lunches, Afternoon Teas, Dinners.

Limited Catering Cover.

- Simple Lunches, Relaxed Dinners, Light Bites.

Or a blend of the two services tailored to your requirements

- The choice of what level of service you require is entirely up to you.

'm a good cook what can a personal chef offer that is better than I can do?

Your personal chef has many years of experience as a Head Chef and Chef/Patron in top class restaurants, providing everything from a full breakfast to start your day, extraordinary lunches and fine dining dinners comparable with any restaurant anywhere.

- Check out our culinary accolades link

As well as years of professional experience your chef is accredited with the following internationally recognised prestigious trade titles:

- Master Chef of Great Britain
- Master Chef of the Association Culinaire Française

- Member of The Federation of Chefs Scotland

Within budget sourcing and shopping for top quality, local, seasonal ingredients, will all be taken care of by your personal chef.

Whatever level of support you decide on, your personal chef will source, buy, prepare, cook, plate, serve, clear and clean up.

We are not sure whether we will be holidaying in the Scottish Highlands or staying on a yacht in the Mediterranean, or perhaps a combination of both ideas. What cover would the chef be able to provide?

Your chef will go wherever and whenever you ask.

Sounds too good to be true, this must cost a fortune.

You will be surprised, just add up all those restaurant meals, tips, wine bills, taxis, child minding costs, not to mention the stress of planning, shopping, cooking and clearing up – all when you are supposed to be enjoying yourself. The cost of your personal chef will come out around the same.

Transport and accommodation costs are included in your quote.
